NOTES:

Cardigan is made up of 48 squares and two half squares to shape the neck. All the squares follow the same pattern. However, there are 9 colour groups where you will need to work the classic pattern in a different way.

There are 4 rounds that make up the square. These will be worked using different colour combinations but the last row- 5th- will be worked in the same colour for all the squares.

16 squares make up the back panel, 8 squares and 1 half square form one front panel and 9 squares are needed for one sleeve. Once these panels are created, they will be then joined- using whipstitch- to assemble the cardigan.

The pattern is written in one size that could fit from Small to Large sizes. However, you could add squares (to make it bigger) or take squares (to make it smaller) to adapt this design to your body and preferences.

After assembling the cardigan, a border will be worked around the two fronts and the back to create an impeccable finish.
